Gateway president named to national competency board

Gateway Technical College President Bryan Albrecht has been elected as a trustee for the National Occupational Competency Testing Institute (NOCTI) Board of Trustees.

The NOCTI Consortium of States elected Albrecht as trustee-elect and his term will officially begin January 1 and ends Dec. 31, 2013. Albrecht will be officially announced Nov. 18 at the NOCTI reception at the Association for Career and Technical Education in Nashville, Tenn.

"It is a privilege to represent career and technical education professionals as a member of the NOCTI Board of Trustees," said Albrecht. "Student success is essential to our mission at Gateway and aligning our courses and program outcomes with national assessment strategies ensures that our students remain competitive in the global workplace."

NOCTI is a leading provider of high-quality occupational competency assessment products and services to secondary and post-secondary educational institutions in the United States and around the world. Gateway provides NOCTI career and skills assessments for many of its occupational and certificate programs.

With more than three decades of experience in designing and developing occupational competency assessments, NOCTI provides more than 170 standardized technical assessments in a variety of occupational fields.

Gateway Technical College collaborates with communities in Kenosha, Racine and Walworth counties to ensure economic growth and viability by providing education, training, leadership and technological resources to meet the changing needs of students, employers and communities.
