Gateway to host backyard birding seminar

Well-known area birding expert and Hoy Audubon Society member Rick Fare will deliver a seminar focused on backyard birding, from 4:30 p.m. to 6 p.m. March 24 at Gateway Technical College's Center for Sustainable Living on the college's Kenosha Campus, 3520-30th Ave.

Fare will focus on ways to create backyard habitats that attract birds year-round by providing them with food, shelter and nesting sites.

The presentation is free, but those interested in attending should RSVP to center manager Kallie Johnson at johnsonka@gtc.edu or (262) 564-2196.

Gateway Technical College's mission is to deliver industry-focused education that is flexible, accessible and affordable for our diverse community. The college collaborates with communities in Kenosha, Racine and Walworth counties to ensure economic growth and viability by providing education, training, leadership and technological resources to meet the changing needs of students, employers and communities.
