

News release

April 27, 2021

Contact: Lee Colony 262.564.2512

262.359.0798 (cell)

College to hold annual design show in an online format

Gateway Technical College will hold its annual Student Design Show for public viewing in an online format this year 6 p.m. to 7 p.m. April 29 on YouTube.

The show, which has been held for more than 20 years, features creative and innovative design work by Graphic Communications students and is juried by local industry professionals.

Graphic Communications instructor Peter Pham noted that the event is a way to celebrate students and their work while also giving the public -- and potential employers -- an insight into the skills of those who will soon graduate and enter the workforce.

"This event allows Graphic Communication students from Kenosha, Racine and Walworth counties to showcase their design work to the general public, interested businesses and education partners," said Pham.

Visit gtc.edu/designshow to view the SDS website and access the YouTube link.

Gateway Technical College's mission is to deliver industry-focused education that is flexible, accessible and affordable for our diverse community. The college collaborates with communities in Kenosha, Racine and Walworth counties to ensure economic growth and viability by providing education, training, leadership and technological resources to meet the changing needs of students, employers and communities.

XXX