Gateway to host how to attract birds to your back yard

Well-known area birding expert and Hoy Audubon Society member Rick Fare will deliver a seminar providing the best ways to create a backyard habitat that will attract birds throughout the year.

The event will be held 4:30 p.m. to 6 p.m. April 30 at Gateway Technical College's Center for Sustainable Living on the college's Kenosha Campus, 3520-30th Ave.

Fare will outline ways to attract birds to your yard by offering them proper food, shelter and nesting sites.

The presentation is free, but those attending are asked to RSVP to center program manager Kallie Johnson at johnsonka@gtc.edu or (262) 564-2196.

Gateway Technical College's mission is to deliver industry-focused education that is flexible, accessible and affordable for our diverse community. The college collaborates with communities in Kenosha, Racine and Walworth counties to ensure economic growth and viability by providing education, training, leadership and technological resources to meet the changing needs of students, employers and communities.
