Gateway designated as “Military Friendly School” by national group for fourth straight year

For the fourth straight year, Victory Media, the premier publisher of magazines for military personnel transitioning into civilian life, has designated Gateway Technical College to its list of Military Friendly Schools.

The 2015 Military Friendly Schools list honors the top 15 percent of colleges and universities which are doing the most to embrace America’s military service members, veterans and their spouses to ensure their success as students.

This year’s list is based, in part, on a survey of more than 50 leading practices in supporting military students in more than 8,000 schools nationwide approved for VA tuition funding.

“We honor the service of all veterans and are proud to support their educational goals,” said Gateway Technical College President Bryan Albrecht. “I am also very proud of the work our counselors, advisers and student support staff members do to support them.”

This year, the list of approximately 1,600 Military Friendly Schools highlights those institutions that exhibit leading practices to support military students. Schools earned rights to the coveted Military Friendly trademarked designation via qualifying scores from a rigorous survey assessment. The assessment and rights to the Military Friendly designation are made available to qualifying schools at no cost.

Gateway Technical College collaborates with communities in Kenosha, Racine and Walworth counties to ensure economic growth and viability by providing education, training, leadership and technological resources to meet the changing needs of students, employers and communities.
