Gateway mock disaster
training drill a success

Gateway Technical College's simulated disaster training event March 12 on its Kenosha Campus was a success, giving students the ability to apply the skills they've gained in the classroom to a real-world simulated situation and learn to communicate with other groups at a mass emergency event.

The event simulated a three-vehicle accident with several sustaining injuries – including a pregnant woman – and one person dying.

Students practiced how they would communicate with other emergency service personnel and made sure patient safety remained a priority through the transfer of care.

The interprofessional simulation day, branded as Red Hawk Rescue, brought together students from Nursing, Physical Therapy Assistant and EMS/Paramedic programs.

Gateway Technical College's mission is to deliver industry-focused education that is flexible, accessible and affordable for our diverse community. The college collaborates with communities in Kenosha, Racine and Walworth counties to ensure economic growth and viability by providing education, training, leadership and technological resources to meet the changing needs of students, employers and communities.
