Gateway nursing grads
score well on licensure exam

A recently released Wisconsin Nursing Board NCLEX passage rates report marks yet another example of the solid skills Gateway Technical College Nursing program graduates gain at the college and their drive to be career-ready upon graduation.

The board indicated that more than 95 percent of Gateway nursing grads taking that test passed it, said Gateway Dean of Health Vicki Hulback.

“The high passage rate is a testament to our graduates as well as our instructors who have committed themselves to delivering a high level of education to ensure our students are career ready. We’re proud of our graduates,” said Hulback.

The NCLEX is the National Council Licensure Exam, the exam all prospective nurses must take and pass in Wisconsin to become a registered nurse.

Gateway Technical College’s mission is to deliver industry-focused education that is flexible, accessible and affordable for our diverse community. The college collaborates with communities in Kenosha, Racine and Walworth counties to ensure economic growth and viability by providing education, training, leadership and technological resources to meet the changing needs of students, employers and communities.
