

Be Your Own Ambassador of Student Success

You share accountability with Gateway Technical College for your education. Being your own ambassador to your success requires you to take responsibility for your future.

As an ambassador of your success you will need to:

- Read the student handbook (you may pick one up at the bookstore on your campus)
- Take responsibility for adding/dropping classes (you may add and drop courses on WebAdvisor)
- Know withdrawal deadlines (to withdraw from a course you may go to any Student Services Center and complete a withdrawal form; you may want to meet with your academic advisor to see if there are any ramifications for withdrawing from the course)
- Identify your registration date (this can be found on WebAdvisor)
- Schedule an appointment with your academic advisor
- Print out your academic evaluation (this can be found on WebAdvisor)
- Participate in class and keep an open communication with your instructors
- Maintain your academic program GPA requirements
- Make sure you are aware of your final exam schedule
- Utilize student success services and student organizations
- Learn about the student resources that are available to you (e.g. tutoring, student success center, library, and more)
- Follow all financial aid requirements
- Learn about paying for your tuition
- Always ask your advisor for assistance when needed
- Follow your academic plan
- Meet with your academic advisor regularly to ensure you are on your way to success!
